

“In those days, people will live in the house they build and eat the fruit of their own vineyard. It will not be like the past, when invaders took the house and confiscated the vineyards. For My people will live as long as trees and will have time to enjoy their hard won gains. They will not work in vain, and their children will not be doomed to misfortune, for they are people blessed by the LORD, and their children, too, will be blessed.” Isaiah 65:21 – 23

The thief’s work will cease! There will be no more “stealing, killing or destroying.” (John 10:10a). People today are wearied by hard work – not because of the work itself so much, as that their fruits are eaten by others – their earnings stolen before they can be enjoyed, and that often with no recourse. But not in “those days”! During the days of Messiah’s reign upon the earth things will be different. Life and life’s work will be enjoyed because we will experience true productivity unrestricted by the curse. The blessing of the Lord will be freely manifest without the hindrances of sin and loss. Creativity will be unhindered and unleashed. Work will be a delight!

In this place called the world, along with all its various systems, life tends to grow more and more tiresome. Believer’s hearts are yearning more and more for the coming reign of Messiah Yeshua. Life may be good to you now, but it will be far better upon His return!

“Even so, come Lord Jesus! Maranatha!”
