Job 28:7 – 8

“There is a path which no fowl knows, and which the falcon’s eye has not seen; the lions whelps have not trodden it, nor the fierce lion passed by it.” Job 28:7 – 8

We are most definitely living in a day when men’s hearts are failing them for fear. Evil – real evil lurks in places that once were considered safe – homes, schools, churches! But does not the Christian have a place of confidence, a deep abiding assurance that precludes what others are feeling or even experiencing? “I will say of the LORD, He is my refuge, and my fortress, my God, in Him will I trust.” (Psalm 91:2)

Being a Christian never exempts a person from the rigors of life. Trials, temptations, and tests await us all. There is a hiding place though waiting for us; a path to walk that has been secured from the terrors plaguing others. It is a very real place hidden from view, not only from the devil, but those who will not walk in purity and in faith. “And a main road will go through that once deserted land. It will be named the Highway of Holiness. Evil-hearted people will never travel on it. It will be only for those who walk in God’s ways; fools will never walk there. Lions will not lurk along its course, and there will be no other dangers. Only the redeemed will follow it.” (Isaiah 35:8-9 NLT)

Jesus lived every moment in this place. “The prince of this world comes, and has nothing in Me.” (John 14:30). To walk in the will of God is to walk in the safest place upon the earth!

“Lord, today I desire to be found walking upon the Highway of Holiness, living for You wholly!”
