

“If the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do?” Psalm 11:3

We understand that without a foundation nothing within the building is secure. We also understand that to build without an adequate foundation to support the superstructure is unwise. (Matthew 7:24-27). But our question remains; what are the righteous to do when the foundation of their spiritual or national life has been undermined?

Is it possible to rebuild foundations that no longer exist? What are we, the righteous people of God to do, how are we to act and what is our part in this rebuilding process?

The Spirit has given us a means whereby we can invade the impossible and achieve, what to natural men is unattainable.

Learn to pray!

These prayer words are not just recited words that immediately fall to the ground or dissipate in the din of life’s noise. They are rather prayer words that echo the cry of the heart and penetrate the natural world reaching into the unseen realm where the answer to our dilemma lies. Take the Word of God upon your lips and utter it as the voice of Jesus commanding the “fig tree to dry up” or the “mountain to be removed” or “the foundations to be rebuilt!”

Begin then to live out your faith by daring to act upon the words of Jesus, thus becoming salt and light to those who have no standards, to those who have no foundations.

Indeed, what can the righteous do?

What can you do?

When then will you do it?

“Before the THRONE” and “Before the THRONE – The Devotional” are registered trademarks of and published by Spencers Unleashed, Inc. All rights reserved, contents may be quoted or reprinted, provided excerpts are in context.

© 2005 and © 2006 by Mark D. Spencer and Spencers Unleashed, Inc. For additional information see us at www.spencersunleashed.com or at www.innercourt.com or at www.feargod.com