

“I will sing unto the LORD, because He has dealt bountifully with me.” Psalm 13:6

Sometimes it is hard to see just how good the Lord has been to us. At any given time we only see a small portion of the whole. The goodness of God so pervades our lives – even in the midst of this present evil age – that we are kept or sustained by His unseen and often unfelt hand!

No dear son, you have much to sing about, much to give thanks for, because the Lord has dealt bountifully with you. His bounty is first and foremost seen in His gracious gift to you of His own dear Son, Jesus Christ, and this while you were still a rebel at heart!

His bounty is further extended to you by the gift of His precious Holy Spirit. The One Who bears witness to and is the Administrator of the Covenant and its execution in our lives. He bears witness within your heart of His promises and of your rights and privileges as a son and heir. He testifies to your eternal inheritance, eternal life and a future home in heaven. He is the Hope of the promised provision for Tomorrow, but He is the Bearer of the blessings for Today – forgiveness of sin, healing, provision, and restoration of every imaginable sort. His exceedingly great promises are “yes and amen” in Jesus Christ. His bounty is evident to you. His bequest of spiritual authority and the right to use His name in His stead overflow with this bounty.

There is always more...

Allow your heart to be filled with gratitude for His benevolence and generosity. Offer thanks for the littlest kindnesses. An overflowing heart of thankfulness is attractive to others, but it also attracts even more of the blessings of Heaven!

Yes, “I will sing unto the Lord, because He has dealt bountifully with me.”
