Psalm 119:45 – 46

“I will walk at liberty for I seek Your precepts, I will speak of Your testimonies before kings, and will not be ashamed.” Psalm 119:45 – 46

“Stand fast, therefore, in the liberty with which Christ has made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage.” (Galatians 5:1). The Christian is made free from the outward regulations that bind and restrict, although he is still under the restraint and guidelines of the Moral Law. “Let no man, therefore, judge you in food, or in drink, or in respect of a feast day, or of the new moon, or of a Sabbath day, which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ.” (Colossians 2:16-17). Jesus said, “Whosoever is angry... “Whosoever looks upon a woman...” (Matthew 5:22, 27).

Walking in God’s ways creates within the heart of man a liberty that far exceeds the constrictions of sin and vice. The submissive heart that willingly serves, that delightfully honors God, finds safety rather than hindrance in the Word of God. Hence, the liberty that others secretly long for is plainly evident upon your life and soon others – even leaders, will begin to ask you the why’s of your life’s overflow!

Here then is your opportunity!

God has separated you to Himself for such a time and purpose – to offer others hope for their own lives.

Therefore, apply the Law, speak of His goodness, speak of His love, speak of His redemption – and speak confidently and unashamedly!
