

“See, I have set before you today life and good, death and evil... I call heaven and earth as witnesses today against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing; therefore choose life, that both you and your descendants may live.”

Deuteronomy 30:15, 19

Choices, choices and more choices! Life holds before us a continual flow of choices. It's easy to abdicate those choices believing that somehow our inaction will relieve our responsibility, but that is both inaccurate and untrue.

On the first day of the week as the Master rode into Jerusalem to the exuberant praise of the people – when the pharisaical spirit tried to rebuke Him, His response reveals to us the truth that heaven and earth are witnesses to the choice we make... “I tell you that if these people should hold their peace the stones would immediately cry out.” (Luke 19:40)

In all that we do, in all the choices that we make, there should be one under girding principle that guides these choices. Are we choosing that which produces life, or are we choosing that which will manifest death? Will our choice draw us closer to Jesus or will it separate us from Him and His life? “Therefore choose life... that you may love the LORD your God, that you may obey His voice, and that you may cling to Him, for He is your life...” (Deuteronomy 30:20)
