

“I will not let you go, except you bless me.” Genesis 32:26

Jesus paid the complete price for our redemption. Not one aspect of Man’s fall was left unaccounted for in His work upon the tree of Calvary. His work was complete and final, perfect in every way. Now, that work was not merely some universal nebulousness, but it has specific implication for every man and women, boy and girl, who trust in the Saviour. “Whosoever will...”

With such a vast and expansive work of Divine grace on man’s behalf, it is so tragic that many people come up so short in obtaining the benefits afforded them! How much suffering could be avoided, how much pain relieved, how much poverty diminished and how much human grief turned to blessing and joy if men would only take the spiritual position and attitude of Jacob! “I will not let You go, accept You bless me!”

All of heaven is looking for those courageous believers who will boldly take hold of the hem of His garment and receive their covenant blessings! “So let us come boldly to the throne of our gracious God. There we will receive His mercy, and we will find grace to help us when we need it.” (Hebrews 4:16 NLT)

Will you?
